

Intentful Tech Collaborative

TECH PROGRAMS COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Our Tech Programs Committee is currently recruiting talented technologists and subject matter experts who are passionate about strengthening the digital capacity of equity- and justice-based organizations.

At Intentful Tech Collaborative, we are excited about supporting the public sector by engaging nonprofits in long-term pro bono technology projects as well as cultivating a diverse learning ecosystem of technologists and organizations. The primary purpose of the Tech Programs Committee is to ensure that our partner organizations receive high quality, sustainable, and helpful digital solutions, and to support the pro bono technologists that are delivering this work.

Below are some of the activities that we anticipate this committee handling.

- Developing and iterating on our pro bono tech development process
- Scoping digital projects with prospective nonprofit partners
- Screening prospective pro bono technologists, and staffing projects with the right expertise
- Serving as a support system for pro bono teams as they execute projects
- Planning and sometimes executing workshops for nonprofit partners

Time Commitment

We estimate that this volunteer role will require between 2-4 hours per week, depending on how busy we are. As a lot of this work is team-based, we prefer candidates who can commit at least 3 months to this committee.

Preferred Skills

We are looking for folks with a wide range of skills including, but not limited to:

- Product management
- Software engineering
- Data analytics
- UX/UI
- Experience building digital solutions for a diverse group of clients
- Nonprofit tech experience (ex. Working at a nonprofit on the tech team, or working on tech intended for nonprofits)
- Experience working at an equity- or justice-based organization
- Volunteer management

WORKING WITH US

As a volunteer-run organization, we are deeply committed to moving patiently and intentionally through our work, respecting a healthy volunteer-work-life balance for all members. The well-being of our volunteers and partner organizations will always be our top priority. As a collaborative, we take care of each other!

Intentful Tech Collaborative
